Effingham County

St. Anthony's Savvy Senior Program & Luncheon on Thursday, January 15th, 2026 at 11:00 a.m. featuring:

Karla Marshall, CIL Market Supervisor of Mission Integration and Spiritual Care, has over 13 years of hospital/community experience assisting patients/families with the Power of Attorney for Healthcare-POAH process. Her presentation will be covering POAH, answering questions, reassuring fears, and simplifying the understanding process.

"No one can predict when a serious illness or accident might occur.

When it does, we may need someone else to speak or make healthcare decisions for us.

If we plan now, we can increase the chances that the medical treatment you get will be the treatment you want."

In Illinois, we can choose someone to be our "healthcare agent." Our agent is the person we trust to make healthcare decisions for us if we are unable or do not want to make them ourselves. These decisions should be based on your personal values and wishes. Completed POAH forms allow us to choose our decision maker, our preferred treatment, along with any limitations.

Reservations are required and must be made by noon on Monday, January 12th by contacting the center at 217-347-5569

Senior Services will be CLOSED:

Community Care Program

".... Helping older people live independently"

Did you know that ECCOA Senior Services is contracted with the Illinois Dept on Aging to provide the Community Care Program for 9 counties within the State of Illinois? The counties we serve are Effingham, Clay, Fayette, Jefferson, Marion, Jasper, Crawford, Richland, and Lawrence.

All our offices are your direct linkage to all the information you need regarding community-based services that can give you many added benefits that enhance your quality of life. As you prepare to retire or if you become disabled, the staff members in our offices will assist you with the services that will allow you to remain in your own home, and keep you out of a nursing home, as long as nursing home placement is not necessary for you. We will send out staff to your home at no cost to discuss your needs and goals, and to help you choose what services might be right for you.

Services can include: In-Home Service, Emergency Home Response Service, Home Delivered Meals, Respite Care for the Caregiver, and in some areas of the state, Adult Day Services and Senior Companion.

If you qualify for services, the staff member will work with you to determine your needs, set up services that are appropriate for you and keep in touch with you to make sure the services continue to meet your needs.

For additional information or to make a referral for someone you feel could benefit from the program call 217-347-5569.

We can assess your needs and keep you at home!

Emergency Home Response Service: (EHRS)

EHRS is a Community Care Program core service provided to improve the independence and safety of clients in their own homes and help reduce the need for nursing home care.

Emergency Home Response Service (EHRS) is a 24-hour emergency communication link to assistance outside the home for older adults with documented health and safety needs and mobility limitations. This service is provided by a two-way voice communication system consisting of a base unit and an activation device worn by the participant that will automatically link the older adult to a professionally trained staffed support center. For more information on Emergency Home Response Services in your community, contact Senior Services at 217-347-5569.

EHRS offers 24-hours-a-day help at the touch of a button, installation at no cost to the client, free adaptive activation devices, and a list of first responders chosen by the client. To receive this service, an older adult must qualify for the Community Care Program.

Hello,

Medicare.gov

From my experience, both as a physician and a patient, taking care of your mind is just as important as taking care of your body. It can help us handle stress, stay healthier, and even boost energy. – Dr. Oz.

Take time for self-care to help strengthen your mental well-being:

Practice mindful movements. Exercise like yoga doesn't just boost your mood, it can also improve your memory and help you think more clearly. TIP: Use a chair for more support.

Stay connected. Social bonds are essential for well-being. Reach out to friends or family for emotional support. If you're feeling lonely or isolated, consider volunteering to build connections in your community.

Meditate. Quieting your mind can help you feel calmer and more focused. Find a quiet place, take deep breaths, and check in with different parts of your body.

Holiday Scams and Social Isolation

The holiday season tends to bring more with it than just autumn leaves and pretty lights! For us here in Illinois, the weather gets colder and our social activities slowdown, which brings along some challenges. The combination of shorter days, weather limitations, health concerns, and holiday blues weigh heavily on many of us and our loved ones. These risk factors are important to be aware of as they can increase one's risk for social isolation and loneliness.

Unfortunately, social isolation and loneliness affect older adults by increasing their risk of becoming victims of fraud and scams. When you are isolated or experiencing feelings of loneliness, scammers may try to take advantage of that vulnerability. Luckily, knowledge is power! You can help protect yourself and your loved ones by being aware of the different types of scams and how they work.

Some Medicare related scams that may be more common during the holiday season are:

1. Phone scams or social media scams where an insurance agent offers you some type of incentive or gift for signing up with a specific Medicare plan.
2. COVID-19 testing scams where scammers may try to get your Medicare number for over-the-counter COVID-19 test kits. Medicare and healthcare providers will never call to offer you free COVID-19 tests. Additionally, only buy FDA-approved test kits from legitimate pharmacies or providers when purchasing both in-person and online.
3. Phishing scams that seem to be from a legitimate business, healthcare provider, or a person you may know. We encourage beneficiaries to save official email addresses and phone contacts from their plan provider, pharmacy, healthcare network, and loved ones to help recognize legitimate contacts. But even then, be extremely cautious when clicking links and don't click any suspicious attachments or links through email, texts or social media.
4. Scammers may also leverage the holiday season by promoting discounted tests or durable medical equipment as part of a "generous" holiday promotion. Be sure to report to us if someone contacts you regarding any tests or durable medical equipment that is not medically necessary.

Other ways you can help prevent these malicious scams are by not sharing your Medicare number with anyone who is not your healthcare provider and by never sharing personal information over the phone.

In order to detect Medicare fraud, always be sure to review all Medicare Summary Notices (MSN) or Explanation of Benefits (EOB) for any possible mistakes or fraudulent charges. A personal journal strictly for healthcare appointments can help document appointment details to then easily compare to MSNs and EOBs later.

The Illinois SMP is also here to offer assistance if you feel you or someone you know have been affected by any suspicious billing on your Medicare Summary Notice or any potential Medicare fraud, please call the Illinois SMP at AgeOptions at (800) 699-9043 or visit www.illinoissmp.org.
